The program was curated for us, having an empowerment course from the beginning. It made me realize who I am as an individual. I'm capable of doing anything, you know? I'm strong, going through challenges. It really made me aware of my confidence, my strength, and how far I've come. Nailah, JP Brooklyn Mom

JEREMIAH BROOKLYN 2020 IMPACT

JP Brooklyn families, staff, and community came together in a challenging year.

In 2020, we had to pivot. Thanks to the support of our community and the hard work of our staff and moms, we did. Three JP Brooklyn moms graduated college while managing all the challenges of the pandemic; we more than doubled the number of new moms participating in Empowerment; and we established a new, high quality tutoring partnership in response to JP children's needs.
